THE 16TH MALAYSIAN FORESTRY CONFERENCE

The Forestry Department Peninsular Malaysia in cooperation with the State Government of Malacca, the Ministry of Natural Resources and Environment, Sabah Forestry Department, Sarawak Forest Department and Sarawak Forestry Corporation organised the 16th Malaysian Forestry Conference in Malacca from 5 to 9 December 2011 with the theme "Forests for Community Livelihood". This triennial Conference was attended by participants from Peninsular Malaysia, Sabah and Sarawak.

In his opening remarks, the Minister of Natural Resources and Environment Datuk Seri Douglas Uggah Embas said that Malaysia is still able to maintain 56.4% of its total land area as forested land. He described it as an encouraging achievement because many countries were not able to do so as their forest areas had been opened for development. This success is very significant because Malaysia is a developing country where development and forest land-use change for other purposes still happens. He also mentioned that the most important challenge in today's forest management was to balance the competition between the various land use and forestry activities. He said that the forest is not just a producer of a product, but also to produce clean air and water as well as to absorb carbon dioxide and minimise the greenhouse effect. The text of the speech was read by the Deputy Natural Resources and Environment Minister, Tan Sri Joseph Kurup.

The Chief Minister of Malacca, Datuk Seri Mohd Ali Rustam in his opening speech, said that Malacca had gazetted 5,327 hectares of forested land or 3.2% of the State's total land area as permanent forest reserves. This effort is made on the commitment by the State Government to maintain a permanent forest area to provide a clean environment and for the preservation of the biodiversity for the people's well-being. He said the State Government shall continue with its tree planting effort, adding that a total of 17,250 trees had been planted since 2005. His speech was read by the State Rural Development and Agriculture Committee Chairman, Datuk R Perumal.

There were six plenary sessions in this Conference namely (i) Sustainable Forest Management and Forest Certification, (ii) Tourism and Economic Forest, (iii) Forests and Climate Change, (iv) Forest Conservation and Biodiversity, (v) R&D and Innovation in Forestry and (vi) Forest Law and Enforcement. A total of thirty six (36) working papers were also presented at this Conference.

Three field trips were organised for the participants namely to (i) Poh Huat Furniture Industries Sdn Bhd, Johor (ii) Taman Nashua Herba & Rempah Karya Sdn Bhd, Johor and (iii) Mangrove planting at Pulau Burung, Pantai Cahaya Negeri Sembilan.

Jabatan Perhutanan Semenanjung Malaysia dengan kerjasama Kerajaan Negeri Melaka, Kementerian Sumber Asli dan Alam Sekitar, Jabatan Perhutanan Sabah, Jabatan Hutan Sarawak dan Sarawak Forestry Corporation telah menganjurkan Persidangan Perhutanan Malaysia ke-16 di Melaka dari 5 hingga 9 Disember 2011 dengan tema "Hutan untuk Kehidupan Masyarakat".

Dalam ucapan pembukaan, Menteri Sumber Asli dan Alam Sekitar Datuk Seri Douglas Uggah Embas berkata bahawa Malaysia masih mampu untuk mengekalkan 56.4 peratus daripada jumlah kawasan tanahnya sebagai tanah hutan Kejayaan ini sangat signifikan kerana Malaysia adalah sebuah negara membangun di mana pembangunan dan perubahan penggunaan tanah hutan untuk tujuan lain masih berlaku. Persidangan tersebut dijalankan dalam enam sesi dan sejumlah tiga puluh enam (36) kertas kerja telah dibentangkan.

马来西亚半岛森林局连同马六甲州政府，自然资源和环境部，沙巴森林局，砂拉越森林局及砂拉越林业机构于2011年12月5日至9日假马六甲举办第16届马来西亚森林大会，主题为森林社区生活。

自然资源和环境部长，拿督斯里道格拉斯（译音）在致开幕词时称马来西亚仍旧能保持其总土地面积56.4%为森林地。这是一项非常显著的成功，因为马来西亚是个发展中国家，各项发展和森林土地利用予其他用途仍然在进行中。大会共分为6项全体会议并接获36张研讨论文。

WORKSHOP ON CARBON FOOTPRINT (CFP) STUDY INDUSTRY IN SARAWAK

The Sarawak Timber Industry Development Corporation (STIDC) had organised a workshop at RH Hotel in Sibu on 20 December 2011 to brief representatives from the plywood industry on the results of the recently concluded carbon footprint study for plywood in Sarawak. Members from both Sibu and Kuching regions attended the Workshop. A similar workshop was also held a day earlier at the New World Suites in Bintulu for participants from the Miri and Bintulu regions.

The General Manager of STIDC, Datuk Sarudu Haji Hoklai in his welcoming remarks informed participants that this Workshop was aimed to share the results of the carbon footprint study with the industry and to seek feedback on how to move forward.

Mr Nicholas Andrew Lisseem of STIDC then briefed the participants on the current status of plywood industry in Sarawak, covering the following topics:-

- (i) Annual installed capacity (based on 8 hrs/shift) of primary processing industry from 2006 to 2011;
- (ii) Production of major timber products from 2006 to 2010;
- (iii) Major types of plywood produced in Sarawak;
- (iv) Major export destinations of timber and timber products for year 2010 by value;
- (v) Number of workers (local and foreign from 2006 to 2010);
- (vi) Types of Certification; and
- (vii) Current issues (raw material, trade requirements, health, environment and workers).

Dr Chen Sau Soon the Senior General Manager, Environmental Technology Research Centre of SIRIM Berhad briefed the participants on the background of the Green House Gas (GHG) profile of the Sarawak plywood study and concluded with the findings of study for the fifteen (15) plywood mills that participated in the study.

The goal of this study is to establish the Green House Gas profile (gate-to-gate) of plywood manufactured in Sarawak based on LCI analysis conducted in accordance with the requirements of ISO 14040: 2006 and ISO 14044:2006. Dr Chen clarified that this study is actually GHG study and not a Carbon Footprint study as it focused on the manufacturing process and excluded the waste recovery process i.e. recycle, reuse and disposal. She emphasised on the following topics in her presentation:-

- (i) Environmental Management Framework;
- (ii) Life Cycle Assessment and Life Cycle Inventory (LCI);
- (iii) Background of study on GHG profile;
- (iv) Development of LCI;
- (v) Results & Findings; and
- (vi) Application of LCI results for ecolabelling

Dr Chen also informed the participants that Malaysia has joined the Global Ecolabelling Network (GEN) in 2010. GEN is a non-profit association of third party, environmental performance labeling organisations founded in 1994 to improve, promote and develop the ecolabelling of products and services.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION ON COMPETITIVENESS CHAMPIONS PROGRAM: MALAYSIA'S COMPETITIVENESS PERFORMANCE

The Malaysia Productivity Corporation (MPC) organised a roundtable discussion on “Competitiveness Champions Program: Malaysia’s Competitiveness Performance” on 15 December 2011 at Hilton Hotel, Kuching. With the current ETP governance structure taking place at all levels in the Government and private sectors, and its focus on the key engines of growth through the 12 New Key Economic Areas (NKEAs), Mr Mohd Zahid said that Malaysians are optimistic to move from an economy that competes on cost and natural resources, to one that is driven by productivity and innovation.
